Next to the film business, perhaps the most precarious undertaking in Canada is publishing. Of course, we can also say that next to the film business, the most exciting undertaking in Canada is publishing. Which is why we are happy to be here: we have the best of both worlds.

We feel that more than simply writing about movies is necessary for the Digest now. We must provide a service to our readers and inform them fully as to what is happening in the world of film, not merely by presenting short summaries, but by in-depth reports. It is not sufficient for anyone involved in film at this time to know a few facts. More facts, and more important, the 'why' of those facts, must be presented.

The scope of the Digest must also change. No facet of film can exist and operate unilaterally: a producer must understand a director's needs and thoughts, and a theatre manager must understand a distributor's problems. The Digest hopes to offer background and insight into all aspects of moviegoing, from the idea for a film to the parting of the curtain.

We are now at a fortunate point in time in Canada: our industry is expanding at an incredible rate, so quickly, in fact, that no one can possibly describe the situation as it will be five years from now. But throughout this time of building, communication is essential. With your support the Digest intends to become indispensible to those involved in the present and future of Canadian film, as a voice for the industry—your voice.

Objects and Powers

(1) The objects of the Corporation are to foster and promote the development of a feature film industry in Canada, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Corporation may, in furtherance of its objects,

(a) invest in individual Canadian feature film productions in return for a share in the proceeds from any such production;

(b) make loans to producers of individual Canadian feature film productions and charge interest thereon;

(c) make awards for outstanding accomplishments in the production of Canadian feature films;

(d) make grants to film-makers and film technicians resident in Canada to assist them in improving their craft; and

(e) advise and assist the producers of Canadian feature films in the distribution of such films and in the administrative functions of feature film production.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, a "Canadian feature film" or "Canadian feature film production" is a feature film or feature film production in respect of which the Corporation has determined,

(a) that the completed film will, in the judgment of the Corporation, have a significant Canadian creative, artistic and technical content, and that arrangements have been made to ensure that the copyright in the completed film will be beneficially owned by an individual resident in Canada, by a corporation incorporated under the laws of Canada or a province, or by any combination of such persons; or

(b) that provision has been made for the production of the film under a co-production agreement entered into between Canada and another country.

(3) The Corporation shall not be regarded as a partner in any film production in which it may invest and its liability shall be limited to the amount of its investment in the production.

(4) The Corporation shall, to the greatest possible extent consistent with the performance of its duties under this Act, consult and co-operate with departments, branches and agencies of the Government of Canada and of the governments of the provinces having duties related to, or having aims or objects related to those of the Corporation.

The Canada Council

The Canada Council does not assist directly in the production of feature films. However, it does give travel, study and materials grants to film-makers as well as funding organizations such as the Cinematheque Canadienne and the Canadian Film Co-operative which provide help for film-makers. A pamphlet on the various grants available and the necessary qualifications can be obtained by writing to the Canada Council (Aid to Artists), 151 Sparks Street, PO Box 1047, Ottawa K1P 5V8.

The Ontario Council for the Arts

The Ontario Arts Council helps film-makers indirectly by funding agencies such as the Toronto Film Co-op., an agency which helps aspiring film-makers obtain grants from different institutions.

he National Film Board was created in 939 to initiate and promote the oduction and distribution of films in e national interest, and in particular, ms designed to interpret Canada to inadians and to other countries. ver the years, the Public Library stem has played an important part in helping to get NFB films to the community. Most large libraries in Canada now have film collections which are offered to the public through its system of branches. All libraries contain an NFB catalogue which is revised every two years. Any individual may order an NFB film for a full day's loan. In the case of schools, teachers are able to obtain NFB films from their Audio-Visual and Instructional Media Centres. Only some of the NFB's feature films are available in this manner to the public. Several NFB feature films are distributed commercially through Columbia Pictures.

tion Picture Theatres throughout nada have paid annual licence fees CAPAC for more than 40 years. The ht to charge music performance s, on behalf of composers, thors, and music publishers, has en upheld by the courts. In a 1970 lgment, CAPAC was awarded an unction and damages against a skatchewan exhibitor, for pyright infringements by both und films and recordings in a ive-in theatre.

e licence fees which CAPAC may vfully sue for or collect must be proved each year by a Board pointed by the Government of nada—; an extract from the anada Gazette" showing the 1971 ence fees is as follows:

riff No. 4 Theatres

r a theatre licence covering erations at any time during the year, annual fee is charged on seating pacity as follows:

Seats	Rate Range per Seat per Annum
499 seats and under	10 cents
500 seats to 799 seats	12 cents
800 to 1,599 seats	15 cents
1,600 seats and over	20 cents

Theatres operating three days or less per week shall pay one-half of the above rates. Minimum fee $10.

The seating capacity of Drive-In Theatres shall be three times the maximum number of automobiles which may be accommodated at any one time.

A licence obtained under this item of the tariff shall not be deemed to authorize any concert or stage show when the exhibition of one or more films is not an integral part of the programme. Concerts or stage shows in theatres not coming within the aforesaid classification shall be licensed under item No. 11 of the tariff.

Since 1925 the Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada Limited has served its composer, author and publisher members, the users of music in Canada and the Canadian public.

The protection of the property right inherent in musical compositions and lyrics in the performing right field can only be effectively accomplished through a central organization such as CAPAC.

The users of music benefit from CAPAC's administration inasmuch as without such an organization any user would have to clear thousands of musical works individually rather than through one central body and the expense of such individual clearance would far exceed the cost of a blanket license issued by CAPAC which authorizes the performance of any or all of some millions of works.

CAPAC distributes the fees it collects among composers, lyric writers and publishers whose works are performed in Canada without any deduction whatsoever other than the actual cost of overhead which is maintained at approximately 12%. In any given distribution payments are forwarded to Canadians as well as citizens of some thirty-two countries throughout the world and the Canadian members in turn receive payment from societies in these countries through CAPAC for performances of Canadian works abroad.

The Canadian public benefits as a result of CAPAC's existence inasmuch as the holders of the CAPAC license are able to present to music lovers throughout Canada selections from the world library of music without fear of infringing copyright.

In 1970, there were 1,156 regular motion picture theatres a net decrease of one (1) theatre which can be explained as follows:

(1) 46 theatres were cancelled from the 1969 universe of 1,157 theatres for various reasons (closed, demolished, temporarily out of business, etc.)

(2) In 1970, 45 theatres were added to the existing universe.

Receipts from admissions (excluding taxes) amounted to $111,691,819, a 9.1% increase over 1969. This increase of $9,329,310 was caused by the fact that the 46 theatres who were cancelled had reported receipts of $682,759, in 1969, the 45 theatres that were added to the universe in 1970 reported receipts of $3,724,563 and finally the 1,111 theatres which were used in both years reported an increase of $6,287,506 in their receipts over 1969.

The number of paid admissions increased for the first time since 1964. In 1970, the number of paid admissions was 2.4% higher than 1969 whereas from the years 1965 to 1969 it had decreased for each of these years.

At the Canada level, receipts from admissions amounted to $131,979,055 or 84.6% of the total receipts (excluding taxes). Receipts from the sale of candy, soft drinks, cigarettes, and so on accounted for 14.1% of the total receipts (excluding taxes). The remaining 1.3% in receipts was derived from concession and vending machine rentals and also the showing of commercial films.

The "average capacity utilized" in Canada was reported at 15% ranging from 34% for theatres in the Yukon and Northwest Territories to 13% for theatres in New Brunswick and Saskatchewan. The potential number of admissions in Alberta increased by 23.8% over 1969 (from 38,404,153 potential admissions in 1969 to 47,554,051 in 1970). This increase was largely due to changes in the law which allowed theatres in Alberta to open Sundays. The average price of admissions (excluding taxes) in the major cities (Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver) was greater than the average for the province in which these cities are respectively situated.

In 1970, there were 279 drive-in theatres in Canada a net increase of 8 drive-ins over 1969 (6 drive-ins were cancelled from the 1969 universe and 14 were added in 1970). Receipts from admissions (excluding taxes) totalled $17,046,584, a net increase of $1,389,004 as explained below:

The six drive-ins who were cancelled had reported receipts of $86,563 in 1969.

The 14 drive-ins added this year reported receipts of $612,572.

The 265 drive-ins included in the survey for 1969 and 1970 reported increased receipts from admissions amounting to $682,869 over 1969.

In 1970, 53 firms distributed films through 112 offices in Canada. Total receipts increased by 5.3% to $66,135,421 in 1970 from $62,809,607 in 1969. Receipts from film rentals totalled $65,582,753 representing a 6.1% increase over the amount reported last year. Receipts from sale of advertising more than doubled (from $24,370 in 1969 to $52,856 in 1970) while receipts from all other sources decreased to nearly half the 1969 amount (from $996,770 in 1969 to $499,812 in 1970). In 1970, 737 persons were employed by film distributors representing a 12.9% decrease from 1969; however, total salaries and wages increased by 1.0% to $5,305,409 from $5,254,423 in 1969. The average salary increased to $7,199 in 1970 from $6,211 in 1969, an increase of 15.9%

Receipts from the rental of films for theatrical use, amounted to $45,661,662 and represented 69.6% of the total receipts. Receipts originating from the rental of films for television use accounted for 28.7% and the remaining 1.7% came from the rental of films for all other non-theatrical use. In 1970, 948 new films were distributed (860 in 1969).

New feature films numbered 786 and included 408 English, 267 French and 111 films in other languages. The 786 features have been further broken down according to country of origin, as follows:

United States	291
France	90
Great Britain	131
Italy	113
Canada	53
Other Countries	108

Appendix 1: Canadian Film Awards 1971

The Canadian Film Awards is an annual competition open only to films produced in Canada, for the purpose of stimulating artistic creativity and technical excellence among Canadian film-makers. A film qualifying as Canadian is eligible in all class and craft categories. A film not qualifying as Canadian may be entered in specific craft categories where the artists or technicians concerned are Canadian.
Preparatory to public screenings at the St. Lawrence Centre, there is a pre-selection in Montreal during September. The pre-selection committee jury is composed of one representative from every film craft guild in Canada. The final selection is made by a five-man jury of film-makers and critics. There will be international film-makers and two will be Canadian. Final jurying and presentation of awards will take place in October.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is an honorary organization composed of more than 3,600 motion picture craftsmen. Members represent 12 branches—acting, art direction, cinematography, direction, executive, film editing, music, production, public relations, short subjects, sound, and writing.

A candidate for membership in the Academy must be sponsored by at least two members of the branch for which he qualifies. After the branch has favourably endorsed a membership proposal, it is submitted to the Board of Governors for final approval.

Regular Awards are presented for outstanding efforts of the year in more than 20 categories.

Up to five nominations are made in each category, with balloting for these nominations restricted to members of the Academy branch concerned. Awards are given in three categories which are not represented by branches: special visual effects, foreign language films and documentaries. Nominations for Awards in these categories are made by large committees drawn from all branches. Final winners are determined by vote of the entire membership.

The Pioneer of the Year Award:

In 1952 the C.P.P. Marked the Golden Anniversary of the Silver Screen in Canada, dating it from the establishment of the first successful motion picture theatre—the Electric of John Schulberg on Cordova Street, Vancouver, which he opened in the Fall of 1902. At the celebration banquet, held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Schuberg, Jule Allen of Toronto, George Ganetakos of Montreal, A. J. Mason of Springhill, Nova Scotia, L. Ernest Ouimet of Montreal and Fred G. Spencer of Saint John, New Brunswick, were honored as pre-1910 pioneers who had done the most to advance the motion picture as a popular form of entertainment in its early days. Spencer passed on shortly before the banquet and Schuberg, Ganetakos and Allen have died since.

The next year, the Pioneer of the Year Award was inaugurated. Those who have received it to date are: 1953: John J. Fitzgibbons, Sr., CBE; 1954: Jack Arthur, MBE; 1955: Louis Rosenfeld; 1956: O. R. Hanson; 1957: Wm. Summerville, Sr.; 1958: N. A. Taylor; 1959: Haskell M. Masters; 1960: Morris Stein; 1961: R. W. Bolstad; 1962: Wm. G. Lester; 1963: Frank H. Fisher; 1964: Harry and Bob Hurwitz; 1965: Herbert Allen; 1966: Dan Krendel; 1967: Harold Pfaff; 1968: Harvey Harnick; 1969: Len Bishop; 1970: David Rothstein; 1971: Myer L. Axler.
